Dear Families,

This week we are beginning to welcome more pupils into our family of schools and I know Heads have kept in regular communication with you all to ask if your children in the year groups specified will be returning.

In our daily preparations, we are:

- managing the balance between getting our communities back together whilst staying as safe as we can possibly be
- following Government guidance, taking account of Trades Unions checklists and local information
- making careful risk assessments and putting in place arrangements to manage risks as far as possible to support this wider opening.

Every school is different and, as a result, arrangements in every school will be unique to their individual settings. The Government has produced further information for parents and carers via the link below.

Thank you for your continued support as we manage this situation together.

Sincerest best wishes

Anne Powell
